

OFFICE REPORT

Clark County | December 2012

SUMMARY | TOTALS

Clark County's Class A & B office market continues to strengthen. We need to go back all the way to October 2010 since we saw average asking rental rates this high and vacancy rates are at a 12-month low. What vastly remains in the marketplace is first generation space or second generation space that is not "move-in ready" or is awkwardly configured. Though no broker would recommend spending dollars on a space prior to having a tenant lined up, it would undoubtedly help in marketing and getting a space leased up.

Looking forward, our market should stay strong and get stronger. Something will eventually have to give with landlords either spending dollars to make their spaces leasable prior to having a tenant or prospective tenants will have to concede to a five-year lease so a space can be constructed for them. Outside of leasing, purchases have increased substantially because business owners recognize we have hit "bottom" and uncertainty in the greater economy continues to languish.
