

OFFICE REPORT

Clark County | February 2013

SUMMARY | TOTALS

Clark County's vacancy rate continues to improve with a broad mix of expansions, new tenants, and relocations coming into our market. This appears to be a healthy recovery with positive activity across many submarkets and with the absorption due to multiple deals; not just one large user moving into our market.

Moving forward, we will continue to see positive absorption and an improvement in the marketplace. The challenge moving forward will continue be increasing the term tenants are willing to sign. The average term will need to move significantly from the current average of around 22 months to build out the inventory of first generation space sitting in the market.
